

Enlarging The Number Of Activities

- Survey members for new activity ideas at a luncheon meeting.
- Schedule the activity. You may need to take the lead for the first couple of events.
- Publicize the activity to your members several times, encouraging members to attend.
- Ensure that the first few activities are well planned, with a welcoming social environment.
- Identify a potential chairman and ask for their help going forward.
- Combining activities should be encouraged and can be very successful as well.
